51 common types of translation

All the translation types, methods and techniques most commonly referred to by translation companies and academics – in 4 broad categories.

Category A:
15 types of translation based on the technical field or subject area of the text

Category B:
14 types based on the end product or the way of the translation

Category C:
13 types of translation based on the translation method employed

Category D:
9 types of translation based on the translation technique used

Want to know what all these mean? See our blog article for a definition, description and example of each.

Brought to you by Pacific International Translations

www.pactranz.com